JESSE LORIGO 80.

Jesse, just thought id say,
A little something, so you will never forget me, well what can I say except stay cool, and sweet, gorgeous, loving tender and fine!!! Oops, sorry but I was getting on a roll. Well Jesse, ill miss seeing ya' around in school and all, take good care of yourself because I care a lot!
Good luck with the girly-girls,
And in everything you do---

Someone who ♥'s ya' (Always)

Homecoming week festivities began with T-shirt Day which, unfortunately, had the smallest showing due to insufficient promotion. Tuesday, however, was a bigger success and brought out leis, grass skirts, and muu-muus for Hawaiin Day. A food-a-rama in the quad was the highlight of the lunch hour that day. Wednesday had, by far, the largest turn-out as several students dressed to the theme of Toga Day. The lunch hour featured an exibition volleyball game in the quad between members of the varsity football and volleyball teams.

Wednesday was also the first day in which the seperate classes had to build their Homecoming floats. All of the classes met at the Memorial Park Exibit Building and worked on their floats from 4:30 until 10:30 that night. On Thursday, students were ready to show the kid in them as they dressed to the theme of Kiddie Day. A tug-o-war was held in the quad during lunch with the seniors reigning supreme. Thursday also marked the second, and final day in which the classes has to finish their floats. It was a close call, but all of the classes finished float construction on time. Friday, the final day of homecoming activities highlighted the homecoming parade and the announcement of the homecoming king and queen, Octavio Silva and Carrianne Oliveras.

Wine & Harvest

The 1987-88 Wine and Harvest candidates and court is as follows from left to right: Melissa Zapiain, Jeanine Harris, Holly Hyatt, Elaine Wilkins, Michelle Bonita, first runner-up Tina Campos, Queen Bonnie Garcia, second runner-up Michelle Gruver, third runner-up Margaret Pandol, Stephanie Benson, Kelly Nagatani, Shannon Hively, and Shelly Brewer. Michelle Gruver was voted Miss Congeniality by the contestants, while Margaret Pandol was selected by the judges as Miss Talent.

The queen candidates worked hard this summer and put in many hours. All thirteen candidates practiced every Wednesday for two months. As the time drew nearer directors, candidates, and all helpers stayed very late into the night to make the show a great success. The candidates participated in many events and activities such as the annual Wine and Harvest parade. They also had the opportunity to attend three parades for Wasco, Philippine Weekend, and Tiny Tots. They attended the Queen's Bar-b-que, and helped out at the livestock auction. The most memorable moment these thirteen candidates had, was eating pizza together after each practice, while making long lasting friendships.

Winter Wonderland

Right: Pssst! Hey Arlee! What IS this stuff on my plate?

Approximately 180 students and guests attended the annual semi-formal which was held on December 19 in the cafeteria. "Winter Wonderland" was the theme for this Christmas season dance. A DJ from Bakersfield supplied the music for the dance which lasted from eight to twelve p.m. Pictures were taken by Todd's Photography in the ASB room. Hors-d'oervres and punch were served throughtout the evening.

Nominees for the semi-formal queen were: Michelle Gruver, Mariam Gonzales, and Bonnie Garcia. King nominees were: Maria Millan, Aaron Estrada, and Trevor Wilson. Students voted on December 18 for their choice as king and queen. The title of Winter Wonderland King and Queen was presented to Mariam Gonzales and Aaron Estrada during the evening by A.S.B President Michelle Bonita and Shannon Hively.

Comments from those in attendance ranged from,"I didn't like the music, but my friends made it fun anyway." to "I could have danced all night if it wouldn't have been for those darn high-heels I wore!". Overall everyone seemed to have a good time whether they disliked one thing or another, simply because everyone was surrounded by their friends. One students summed it all up by stating," The 1987 semi-formal will never be forgotten.

1988 the year the Tigers will Dominate

Despite poor showing in dress-up days during homecoming week, (Jan 11-15), it was still a success in the terms of the spirit it generated, as was demonstrated at the spirit fire on Thursday night and the pep rally on Friday afternoon.

The rally highlighted all winter sports with various events. A basketball shoot competition highlighted basketball, with sophomore representatives Josie Ganir and Brandon Silva edging out the seniors for a victory. A soccer exibition game between members of the varsity soccer and football teams was held to honor soccer, with the soccer team defeating the football team. The most humorous event was that which highlighted wrestling — Wrestle Mania Wrestle Mania, in the opinion of several students, was a complete riot. The match was between The British Bull Dogs, (Juan Llamas and Rickie Maldonado), and The Sledge Hammer and Jake the Snake, (Abran Herrera and Henry Mendoza). Mascots for the two teams, a live snake and bull dog, were also present at the rally.

Perhaps the most "spirit raising" part of the rally was the class competition. Competition was fierce, with each class trying to show they had the most spirit. Amid cries of "Delano high! Fight, fight, fight!", there were also shouts of " Get up on this!" and "SENIORS, SENIORS, SENIORS!!!!!". In the end, the spirited seniors walked away with first place in class competition that afternoon, as well as taking the first place title in the float competition that night.

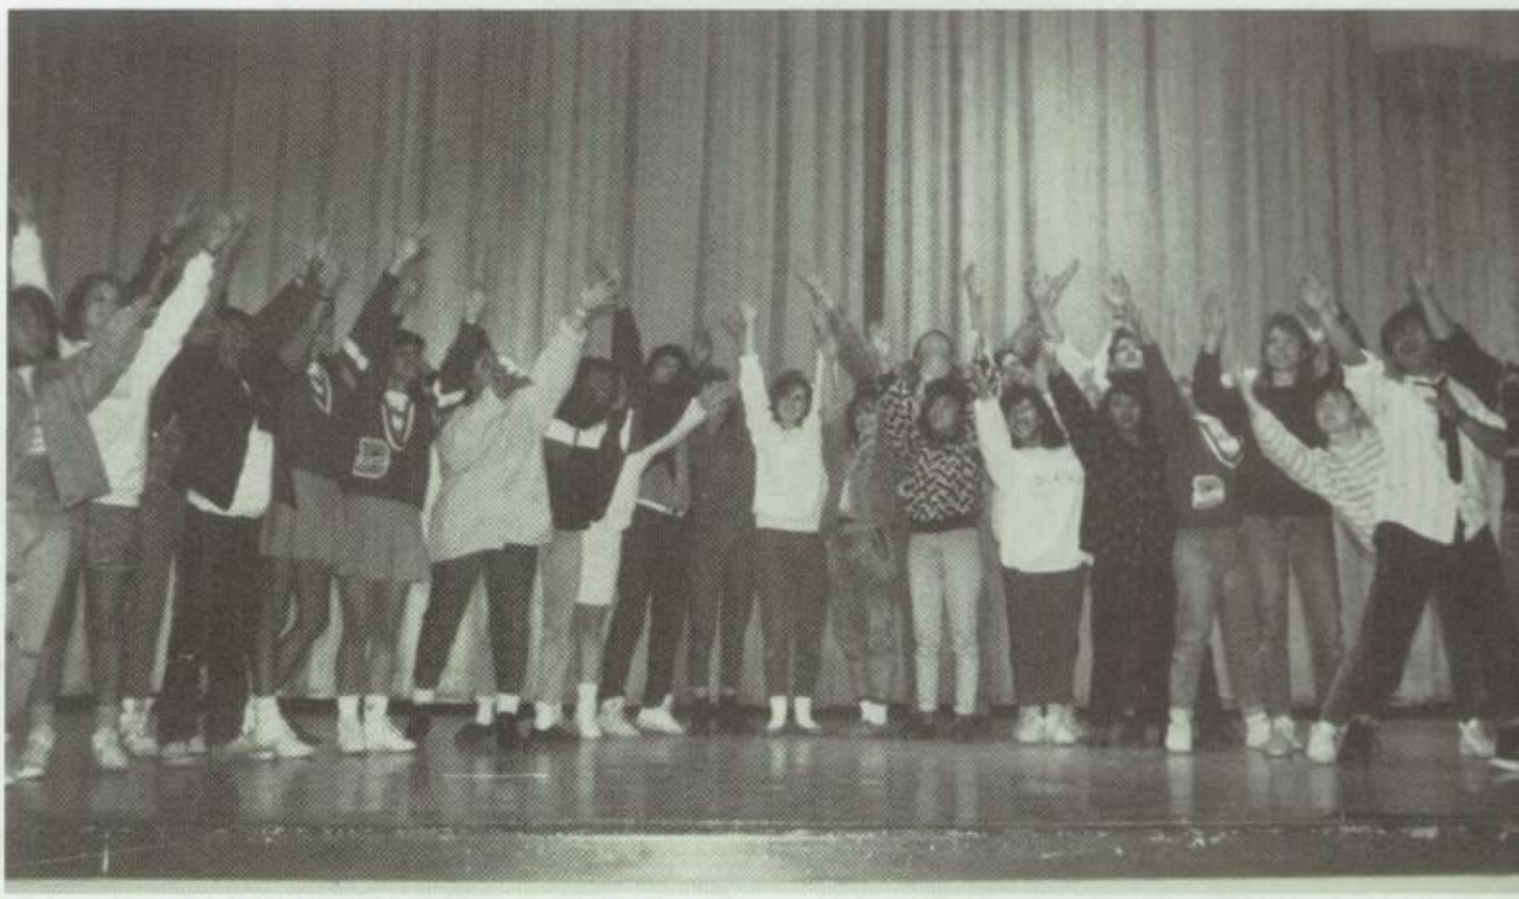
Carnival Comes to Delano high



The musical production Carnival which was direted by Steve Malan was the first musical put on in three years by the Delano High students. A cast of about thirty which was double casted incorporated humor, magic, dance, singing, and drama making one of the most well rounded musicals the high school has seen in many years.

Intramural Time

During the 1986-87 school year, the students were asked to write down three sports they would most likely participate in or attend during the lunch hour. This was a program intended to interest the student body into an activity during lunch. The program was put into action this year by offering football as the first intramural sport. Anyone interested was asked to gather their friends together and form several teams, each taking a name from their own favorite football team. During lunch on specified days, teams would play against each other with the winning team moving up in standings

The next intramural sport was basketball. It was coed but not many girls turned out. The different teams had height requirements, ranging from five foot-six and under to five foot-six and over. The spring intramural sports are volleyball and badminton. These were offered instead of soccer because of poor interest. Intramural sports seemed to be a success if shown through attendence of the student body. This program will probably be continued next year if there are enough participants.

Student Government

The 1987-88 school year marked the first time in many years for Delano High to have a new form of student government. The program now in effect is modeled after our country's democratic government. The student council is made up of a student representative from each fourth period class with each serving on a different committee.

There were, however, seve changes in office after the fi semester, when preside Michelle Bonita and secreta Sandra Sanchez resigned ASB officers. Rosa Andrade w then promoted to the office president and appointed Ro Mendez as vice-president. A pointed to the office of secreta was Lanore Herrera.

Promoting Spirit

The Delano High School Leaders have kept themselves busy in trying to promote spirit at Delano High. This year Spirit Leaders and parents have spent an enormous amount of time earning money for uniforms and tuisions for camps and competition. Some of their fund raisers and to do with selling candy and soft drinks af Philippine weekend, Wine and Harvest, and Cinco de Mayo. Spirit Leaders have also been on the road many times attending competitions at COS, the Kern County Fair where the Varsity took second in the county, and Brocks where the J.V., Frosh showed their excellence. During the summer they attended a USA spirit camp in Santa Barbara and came back with many awards. Namely four trophies, one each for Varsity song, Varsity cheer, J.V. cheer, and Frosh cheer, a spirit stick which was later dedicated to Mr. Girard, and numerous "Superior" ribbons. The D.H.S. Spirit Leaders have done an exceptional job this year and are due the credit they have earned.

Up above we have the Varsity squad: Bernadette Hernandez, Amy Davis, Vi Armendariz, Shannon Hively, Megon Lyons, Kelly Nagatani, Tina Campos, El Garcia, Melissa Zapalan, Lisa Gutierrez, Kelli Davis, Bonnie Garcia, Margee Raban and Katrina Hamilton.

Friends Always

a true friend is one who understands where you have been, accepts who you have become, and loves you as you are.

he does not wish you "luck" as you step out into the unknown . . . he walks into the void by your side.

nor does he offer distraction from your sorrow, but weeps with you until your sorrow has passed.

a true friend does not steal your joy . . . he multiplies it.

no sympathy will he offer in your time of pain . . . rather, compassion, born of a willingness to take that pain upon himself.

a true friend is not skeptical of your blooming nor jealous of your shining . . . he rejoices from the depths of a heart that is pure.

he does not give advice in the midst of your difficulty . . . he prays for wisdom.

such a friend will always speak of you when you are not present . . . as though you were.

and although he may not always share your sunny days . . . he will be there to help you through the stormy ones . . .

for a true friend does not take life from you, he gives you his own.

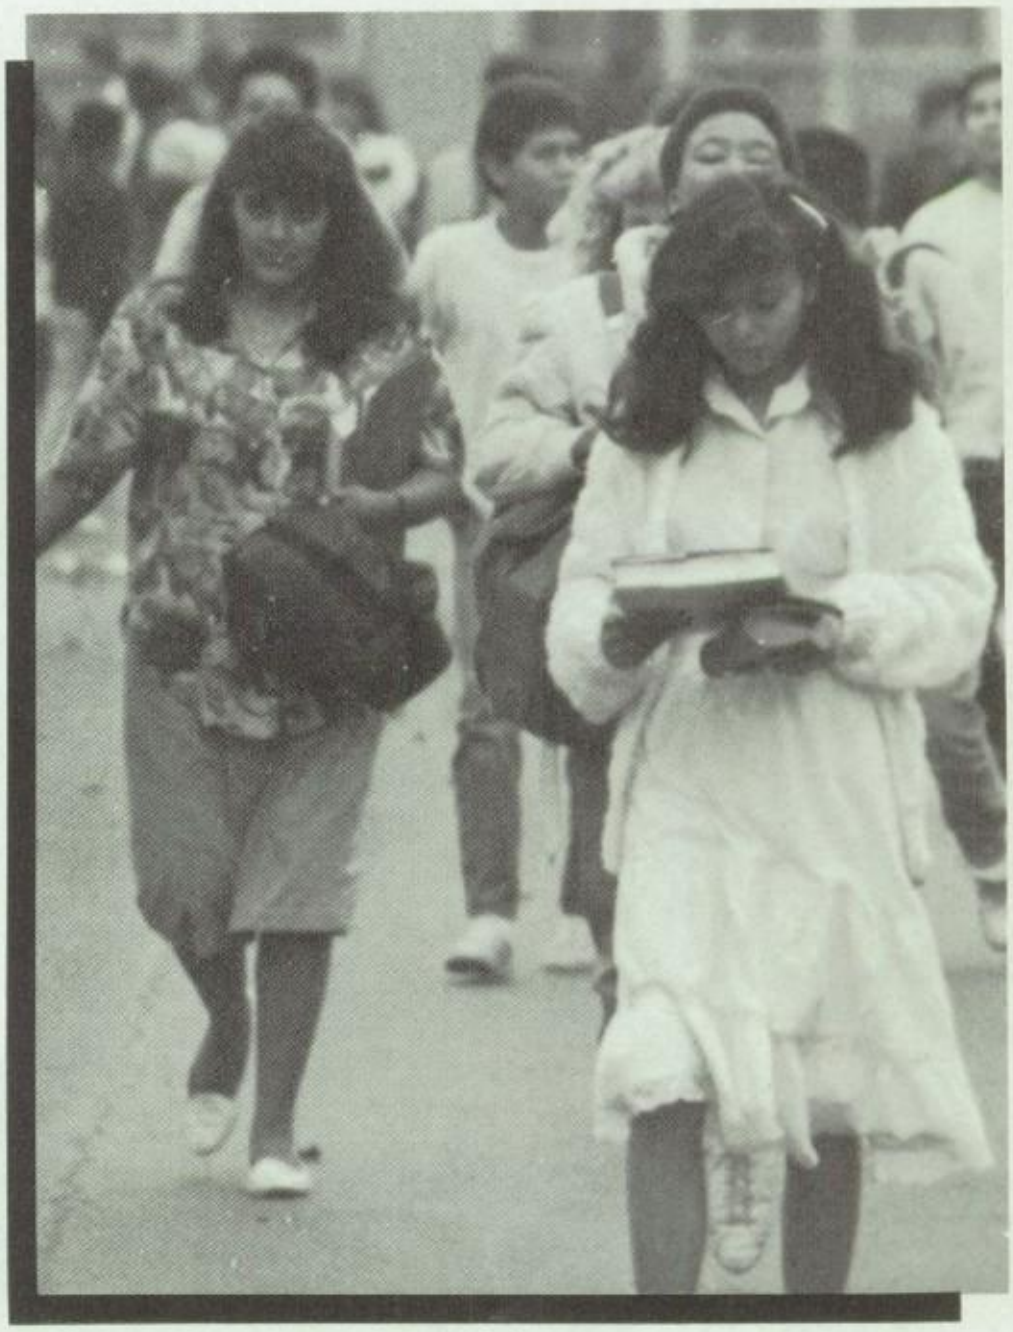
88 Will Forever Dominate

Underclassmen



Juniors

The junior class officer's main priority for the year was the planning of the 1988 prom. They knew that a high amount of money would be needed to plan a "successful" prom so, after being elected to office last spring they immediately began to plan many fundraisers both on and off campus. A car wash in July, an after-game dance on October 9th, a "Sweeties Showcase" during a home football game, and various bake sales were just a few of the fundraisers held.

At press time the prom was tentatively set for April 23rd.

Sophomores

After a slow start getting organized at the beginning of the school year the sophomore class officers "took off" and planned several fundraisers. At press time fundraisers included a bake sale at the homecoming week food-a-rama and an after-game dance during the basketball season. Original plans for an after — game dance in September were cancelled due to a mixup in technical information.

Freshmen

The Freshmen class started off rough this year with Homecoming. Despite their lack of knowledge in float construction and a small amount of bad luck in transportation to the afternoon parade which nearly destroyed it, the Freshmen float placed fourth in the judging.

At press time, the Freshmen class had held an after game dance for football and had plans of a candy gram sale and after game basketball dance. Freshmen officers were, clockwise from top, Elizabeth Velosco; President, Dennis Rabanal; Vice-President, On King Lau; Representative, and Kathy Castellon; Secretary/Treasurer.

Do We Take Education For Granted?

In years past, it was almost impossible for the average person to receive a good education. There were many reasons for this. First of all, the schools were poorly funded. Few communities could afford to pay teachers for community schools. Not only were schools poorly equipped because of the lack of money, but teachers were payed very little.

Discrimination was another barrier that interfered with the people's education. The quality of an individuals education depended on his race. If a minority was allowed an education at all, it was inferior. Even people we recognize for their famous literature or unique intelligence experienced discrimination while seeking an education.

All of this has changed now thanks to people like John Swet, Booker T. Washington, Horace Mann, and many others who fought for the right of a good education for all Americans. The battle for the improvement of our education was long, but worth while. We gained much from this engagement and should be grateful to those people who made it possible.

We are now given a great opportunity to improve our life styles and expand our knowledge. As modern students, we can complete our elementary, and high school studies and have a greater chance of attending a good college. The first step towards our educational growth has been given to us by our ancestors. All we have is but to continue our education and progress.

Teachers are the main support given to us for our improvement. They are there to help us in whatever way possible. Teachers, at all times, push us towards a brighter future. Although, seldom recognize their support. We so many times to realize how esse teachers have been to our educati growth. There have been many ti when we have mistreated misunderstood them and yet, they w able to put up with our mischiev ways. They manage somehow to hel become better people. For t courage, persistence and patience give them our deepest appreciation

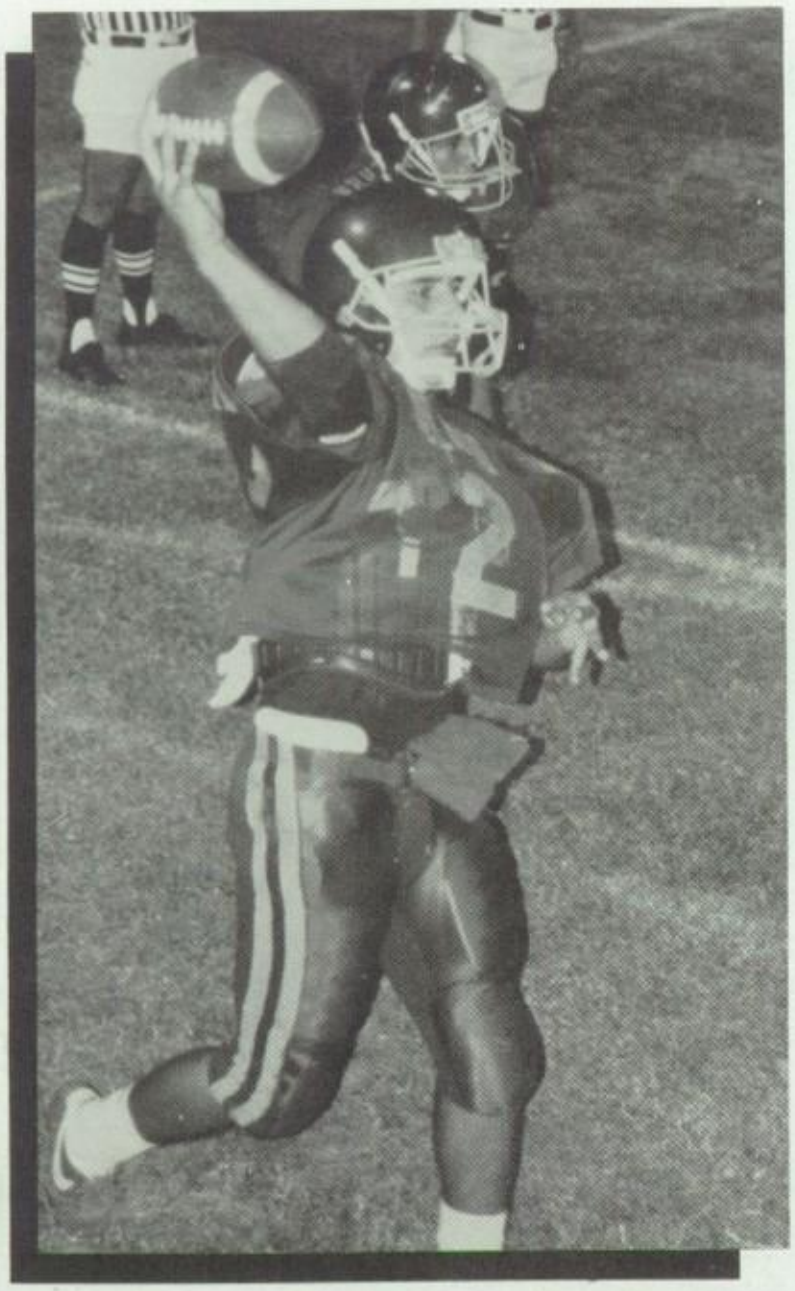
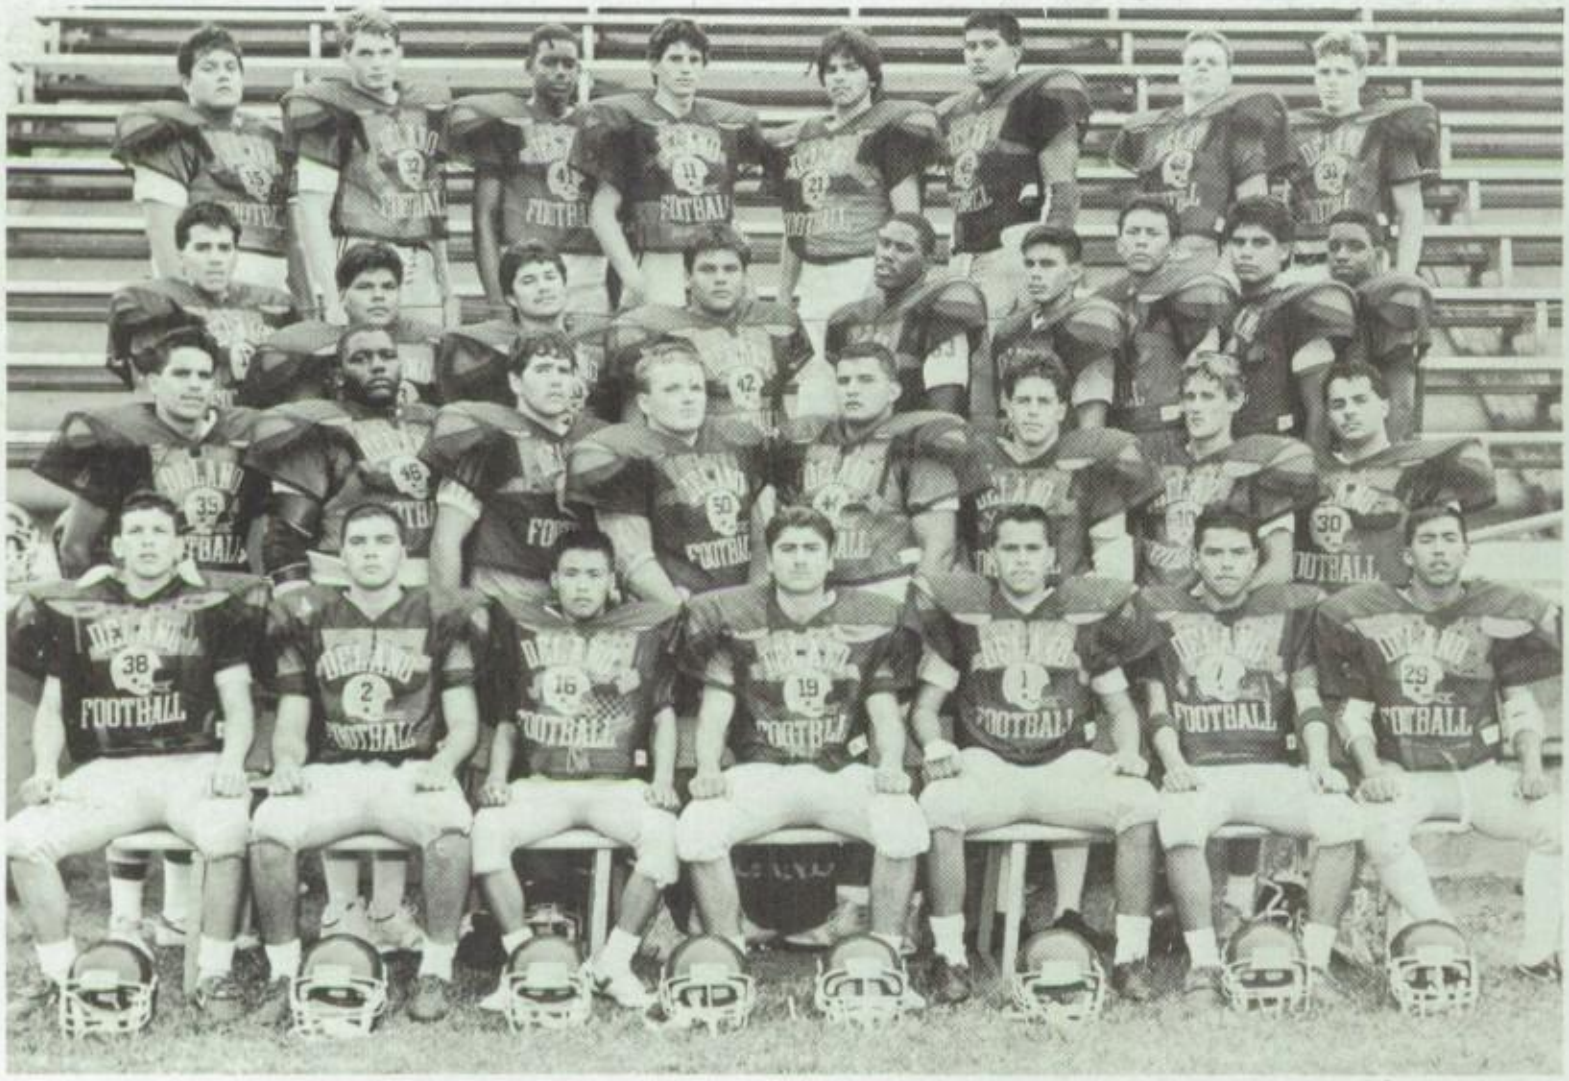
Athletics



Tiger Power

In football, the Tigers suffered through some poor seasons until the 1930's when they took league championships .in 1932,'33,'41,'43,'46,'48,'51, and '58. In 1967 they were champs again by winning nine games in a row, but were nudged by one point for the valley's top ranking. Delano had four losing seasons until 1971, then soared to the top in 1972. In 1973 they were 8-4 and in '74 went the distance but lost to a powerful Clovis team 39-6. Delano won a league title once agian in '77 before suffering a 13-6 playoff loss to Bakersfield. In '78 the team was 2nd in E.Y.L. The '79 team was valley champion when they upset Mt. Whitney, 20-14. In 1980,'81,'82 and '83 Delano only won one game, the final game of the '83 year, upsetting Exeter. In '84 the Tigers finished with a 6-4 record qualifying them to go to the playoffs ,however, they lost to a mighty Clovis West. The '85 Tigers didn't qualify to go to the playoffs, but they did finish the season with a record of 6-4. They only won two games in '86, but things looked better in '87 when the Tigers started off with a 3-0 record before losing to Taft 20-7. The Tigers then lost all there games in league except for a 19-3 win over Porterville.



Our mighty Tigers were, row one, Manuel Flores Mario Millan, Nestor Cantorna, Ernie Luna, Robert Campos, Joseph Bravo, and Kori Katano. Movies!

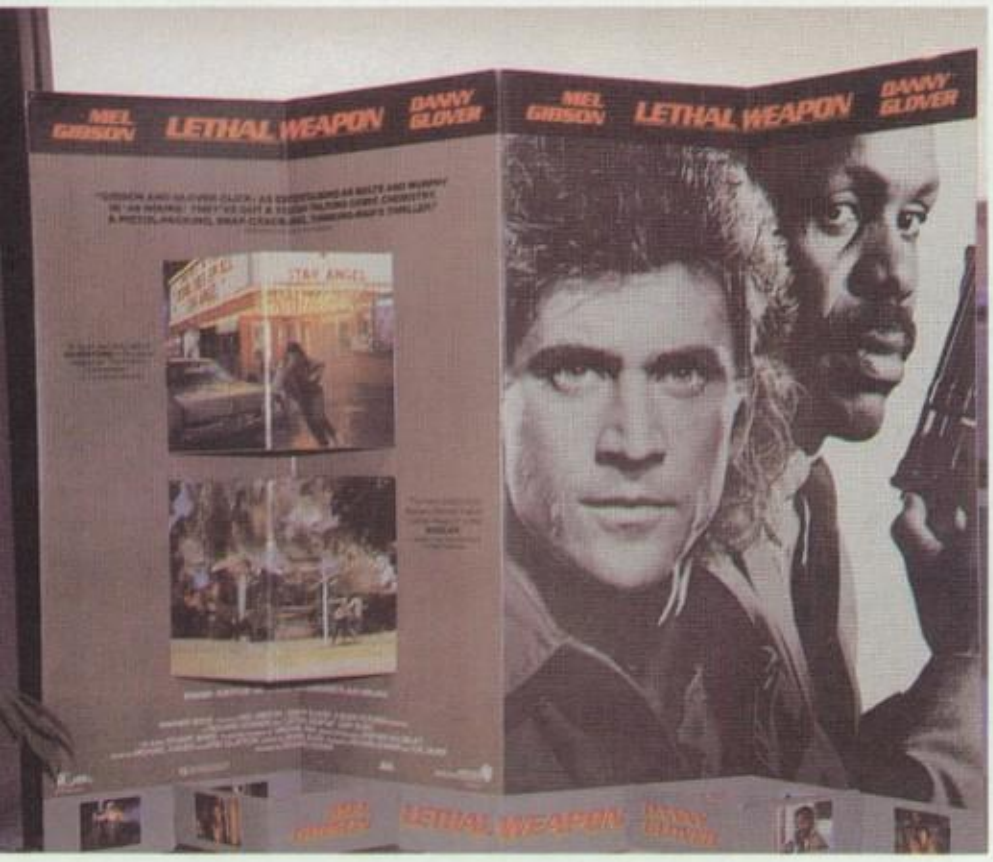
This year has been a busy one for the movie theaters, featuring a number of successful motion pictures as well as "not-so-successful" ones. There were a variety of movies to see on the silver screen — which made it difficult for most students to find time to watch them and complete their homework. While some students saw the movies they wanted to see, others found themselves waiting for them to come out on video cassette and heading towards the video stores to rent them once they did.

The most "In" movies were La Bamba (starring Lou Phillips Diamond), Stake Out (featuring Richard Dreyfuss and Emilio Estevez), Who's That Girl? (starring Madonna), and Hiding Out (starring Jon Cryer) along with some hilarious thrillers like Nightmare on Elm Street — Part 3 and Return of The Living Dead — Part 2. As for television ratings, Cosby Show and Family Ties still ranked pretty high along with A Different World and My Two Dads; but the top television ratings for daytime TV went to the soap operas Days of Our Lives, Santa Barbara and All My Children.

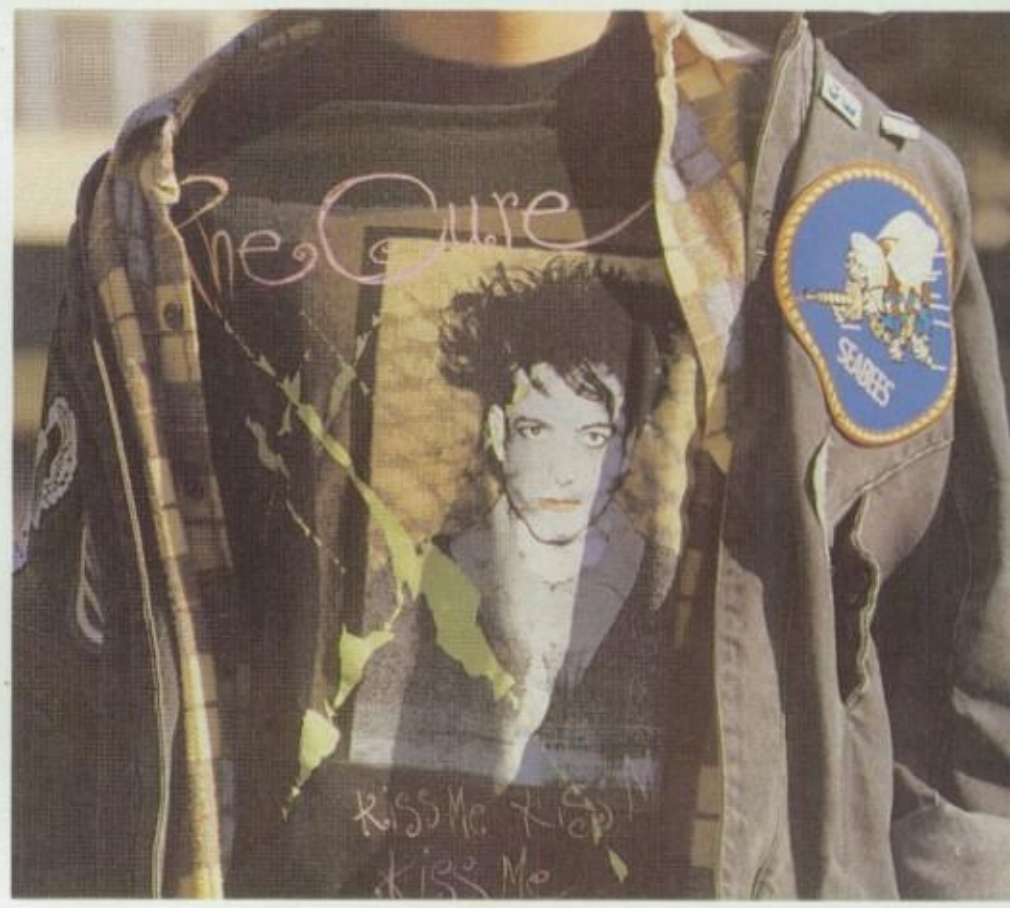


Music!

Music was a major part of the school year for most students. Among them, Top 40 hits were the most popular. During passing periods they listened to a variety of music which they considered to be "okay." At school dances, students enjoyed dancing to the tunes of DJ's Coffee Dog and Sound Express.

Some of the most requested Top 40 hits included: "Only In Your Dreams" — Debbie Gibson; "Don't You Want Me!" — Jody Watley; "Strange Love" — Depeche Mode; "I Think We're Alone Now" — Tiffany; "Push It" — Salt and Peppa; "Season Change" — Expose; "Spotlight" — Madonna; and "(Catch Me) I'm Falling" — Pretty Poison. One song that seemed to affect everyone was "Dear Mr. Jesus", sung by Sharon Batts, who was six years old at the time of the recording. This one song helped to broaden public awareness on the heartbreaking subject of Child Abuse.

When it came to music concerts, DHS students never missed out. There were many artists on tour, such as Lisa-Lisa and the Cult Jam, Expose, Roger, U2, and The Cure, as well as many other performers. One of the most memorable concerts though, was the one that never happened — The Fat Boys Concert. A riot broke out when it was announced that the Fat Boys would not be performing that evening.

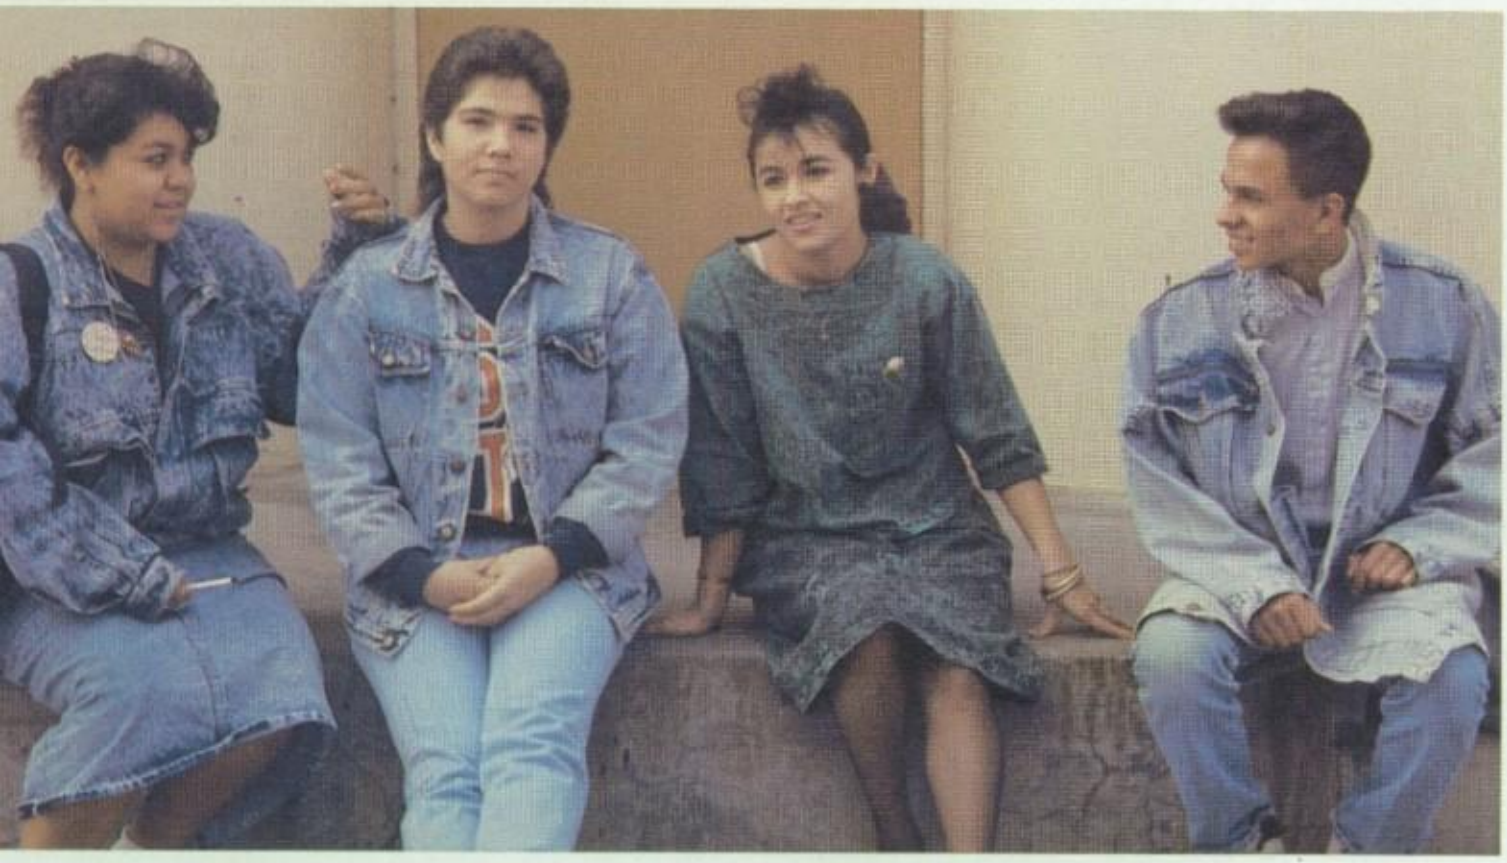


Fads & Trends!

There were times when students completed their homework assignments and other times when they did not; but somehow, when it came to fads and trends, DHS students managed to always stay on top.

There were a variety of styles this year, each one unique in its own way, making a statement about the individual. Most students preferred to dress casually, while others wanted to be creative nad daring. Basically, everyone shared the same concept: to dress for effect. Students dressed in everything from colorful pastels to the basic neutrals white, gray, and black.

Mini-skirts, skate and surf t-shirts, long coats, jean jackets, friendship bracelets, fashion and music magazines, nicknames, and acid wash were definitely the most popular fads and trends here at DHS. Footwear consisted of anyting from Reebok or Converse high-tops to sandals with "wrap-around" laces and anything in between. For most individuals, their "look" was not complete without that "certain hairstyle." Many went for the spiked and teased hair craze, while others went along with long bangs or the "crimped" look. Whatever style each individual chose, it was definitely their own!



Individuality!

Individuality is the sum of qualities that characterize and distinquish an individual from all others. There is no doubt there are many unique students here at DHS. No one is alike because not everyone expresses themselves in the same way or has the same exact personality. A number of students are wild and outging, many are neutral, while others are quiet and shy. Some individuals choose to express themselves in a different way, such as music, fashion, and creativity — which makes each individual even more unique. Some people may think of certain individuals as "weird" or "strange" simply because they like to express themselves differently. As unusual as it may sound, those people really don't mind — because they know it makes them stand out as a unique individual all the more.

Acknowledgements

hrought the hectic yearbook workdays, final deadlines, and all of the fustrations, the 1988 Del-ano staff may have missed the chance to xpress our appreciation to those who have given us the support needed to make "Images of '88" possible. So here on this page, we would e to say "THANKS!" to the following people:

R. GARY SIMPSON our publishing representative, for all of his techinical advice.

ODD'S, especially Mr. Martinez, for the senior portraits, the cheerleading pictures, and for all of the time spent taking and developing our ctures.

& M RECORDS for enlargements and quick developing.

HE PARENTS OF THE DEL-ANO STAFF for allowing their children to stay after school until late hours of the night to finish deadlines.

HRIFTY'S for our developing and film needs.

S OUR ADVERTISERS $$ for their financial support which enabled students to purchase this book.

R. MALAN for taking time out to help us meet our deadlines, even on his days off.

ithout the support of these people, this yearbook would not have been possible. Once again, the 1988 Del-ano staff would like to say THANK YOU!"

In Memory

Florence E. Hildreth

Death it comes morning, noon and night
To take away a precious life
It's feared by most I don't know why
I guess because no one wants to die
But let me tell you now my friends
That when this life is near the end
I won't be sad I'll jump for joy
Because one day I'll see my Lord
